THE CITIZENS' FAIL

The Citizen's meeting in the high school Monday night was a sad denouement to those of us who presumed that at last this city would measure up to its adult responsibilities.

City after city has recognized that the post-war juvenile problem was largely a drinking problem, and either passed new measures designed to eradicate it, or enforced old ones. The failure of the Citizen's committee to do either reveals a serious failure to understand just what the problem is. The committee may be excused for its ignorance, perhaps, but what can one say for the police officers who object to every suggestion to clean up illicit drinking by saying that the proposals are unworkable? We could excuse them too if they could prove what they say, but they can't.

In many cities in other states a misdemeanor is committed by both the minor who orders a drink and the bartender who serves him. Often the tavern owner is jointly responsible with his bartender. Whether this is the case in Missoula or not no one could say on the basis of rambling statements by the law officers at the Monday meeting. We are asking the county attorney for a rigid interpretation of this law, and will print it as soon as he complies. Then we will see who it is that is obstructing justice.

The real obstacle to a cleanup drive is the timidity of the citizen's committee to suggest the type of enforcement that is needed. The committee hedged and hedged Monday, fearing to demand that the police enforce the laws already on the books.

Some deplored Gestapo tactics, as they called them, which would force a drinker to prove his age, failing to realize that the first duty of a police officer is to prevent crime. To prevent crime those who are on the verge of a criminal act must be restrained. This is what the good policeman will do when he suspects that some smooth-cheeked youngster is underage, and asks him to prove he is not. How strange that an officer who is doing his duty should be charged with Gestapo tactics!

Others said they looked upon this sort of thing as a last resort, and asked if reform shouldn't start in the home. Of course it should, but supposing the reform doesn't "take?"

Who is the man who knows his own son? Nothing is easier for a youth than to evade a parental prohibition to drink, and nothing is more difficult for the parent to prove than that an evasion took place. Fathers will scold, sons will lie; drinking will continue. It is only when a few arrests have taken place, (please see page four)

This Picture's a Winner

"Colosseum," a design photograph of the colosseum in Los Angeles, won first prize in the journalism picture contest for Jim Emrick, Conrad, journalism major. Emrick said that the picture was originally taken merely as a snapshot, but when he enlarged it he noticed the unusual patterns, patterns that won him first place in the pic contest.

TWO POLLS TOMORROW

Two polling places will be open for the general election tomorrow, Jim Lucas, Miles City, ASMSU business manager said yesterday. The polling place in the Bitterroot room of the Student Union will be open from 8:30 till 12 and from 1 to 4. The polling place in the vets community center will be open from 11 to 1:30. Lucas said that it would be absolutely necessary to have activity cards in order to vote.

All students wishing interviews should sign the appointment list on the bulletin board in Old Science 109, according to Mrs. M. W. Diskerman, group work specialist in the social work lab.

Amendment Vote Due Tomorrow

According to constitutional requirements the following proposed constitutional amendments are being posted again for your observance. The general election will be tomorrow.

Article VII, Section 5 shall be omitted and be replaced by the following as section 5: "All candidates for class office and representatives to Central board shall be members of the class they expect to represent, according to credits, for at least two quarters of the regular academic year for which they seek election."

Publish In Kaimin

Article VII, section 6: "The sentences 'The names of the candidates shall be kept secret until the closing filing date. The student auditor shall publish in the Kaimin the names of such candidates not later than April 17th' shall be omitted and the following sentence put in its place:

"The names of candidates shall not be released through any official source until the student auditor releases them for publication in the Kaimin not later than April 12th, following their validation by Central Board."

Final Election Voting

Article VII, Section 7: "The sentence 'The two who receive the highest number of votes in the primary and are eligible and consent to be candidates shall be nominated,' shall be concluded 'and voted on in the final election even though one candidate has received a clear majority in the Primary'."

Article V, Section 3, paragraph D: "The sentence reading 'Candidates must be members of the class they represent according to credits, at least two quarters of the regular school year of their candidacy' shall be changed to read 'Candidates must be members of the class they represent according to credits, at least two quarters of the year for which they seek election'."

Constitutional Amendments Go Before MSU Voters Also

An expected 1,500 students will go to the polls tomorrow to write finis to a three-week Greek-ISA battle, with the Independents sure of only an inside chance to win a majority of major offices.

At the same time the fate of four proposed constitutional amendments will be considered by the voters. (A summary of these appears in this issue.)

American Music Program Tonight In Main Hall

A program of American music, featuring compositions by university students and contemporary American composers, will be presented in Main Hall auditorium tonight at 8:15, according to John B. Crowder, dean of music. Members of the University Music club and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national music honorary, are cooperating to sponsor the two-part program, the university's contribution to observance of National and Inter-American Music Week.

Contest Presentations

Original student compositions entered in the contest arranged by the music school faculty to stimulate composition of original works will constitute the first part of the program. Judges Crowder, Rudolph Wendt, and George Perkins, of the music school faculty, will select the best compositions and announce the winners at the conclusion of the program. Entries will be judged according to unity and coherence; compositional logic; inventiveness or individuality; suitability of texture to the medium, and the over-all effect.

The second part of the evening program will include works by contemporary American composers. "Sonata in One Movement," by George Perkins, choral director, is one of the compositions on the program.

The program is open to the public, Dean Crowder said. There is no charge for admission.

RADIO GUILD MEETING TONIGHT IN MAIN HALL

The Radio Guild will meet tonight at 6:30 in Main hall auditorium, an hour earlier than its regular time, according to John Shepherd, adviser.

Guild members will try out for parts in "Lucia Darling—Pioneer Teacher," a historical radio play by Myrl Morris, Belt, which will be aired Saturday over the Z-Bar network.

ISA BALLOT

Secretary
EDITH DRESNER

Senior Delegate
TORVAL HALVORSON

Junior Delegate

Sophomore Delegate
DICK WOHLGENANT*
*Not ISA member; is unaffiliated

As in other general elections where the Independents seemed on the verge of success, this one will be kind to them only in proportion to the turnout of voters. The heavier the vote the more unaffiliated students will take part. Probably 800-plus Greek votes, a solid bloc, will go to the fraternity candidates for ASMSU offices.

Vital Races

John Holding, Missoula, will face Henry Ford, Durango, Colo., in the ASMSU presidency race. Holding's Greek running mate, Dave Freeman, also of Missoula, must topple Ross Miller, Great Falls, if he wants to represent the students as business manager.

Two Greek women will fight it out for the vice-presidency. Margot Luebben, Dillon, and Kay Hennessey, Conrad, are the finalists.

For ASMSU secretary, it will be either Lex Mudd, Missoula, or Edith Dresner, Yonkers, N. Y., the ISA candidate.

Torval Halvorson, the ISA candidate from Ledger, will oppose Henry DiRe, Anaconda, for senior delegate to Central board. This is one of two major offices where the Independents seem to be on the inside track.

In the competition for junior delegate, Jeanne Jones, Butte, and Lynn Lull, Helena, the ISA candidate, will fight it out.

Dick Wohlgenant, unaffiliated candidate for sophomore delegate, is the strongest of the non-Greek hopefuls. The Miles City boy polled more votes in the primary than his competitor tomorrow, Bob Smith, Choteau, and all the others eliminated on Aber day.

Light Vote Expected

A much lighter vote is predicted in the various class office races. Never heavy in the Aber primaries, the class vote in the general election generally falls below the modest figure set on the holiday.

James D. Murphy, Great Falls, will face Joe Estes, Moore, in the senior presidential contest; Martha Brown, St. Ignatius, and Marian Bell, Kalispell, compete for the vice-presidency; Joan Smith, Kalispell, and Barbara Hartin, Spokane, are candidates for secretary; and Virginia Floyd, Butte, and Rhoda Juneke, Spearfish, S. D., will run for treasurer.

Junior Candidates

Junior class candidates: For president, Edna Geary, Missoula, Betty Lou Berland, Conrad; for vice-president, Everett Chaffin, Missoula, unopposed; for secretary, Joan Beckwith, Kalispell, and Bernice Wiley, Helena; for treasurer, Helen Lambros, Missoula, and Michael O'Shea, Spokane.

Sophomore class candidates: For president, Robert Hasquet, Shelby, and Sam Kenney, Lewistown; for vice-president, Audrey Olson, Billings, and Joyce Carstensen, Helena; for secretary, Joanne Shaw, Missoula, and Eleanor Anderson, Bozeman; for treasurer, Barbara Blakeslee, Missoula, and Norma Bell, Kalispell.

Candidates for store board are Jack O'Hern, Butte; Howard Heintz, Moccasin; Joe Dan Murphy, Butte; Marjorie Fryberger, Charlo; Ruby Popovich, Roundup; Beverly Way, Roundup, and Lee Miller, Lolo.

Candidates from Missoula outnumbered the rest, with three running for major offices, and four for class offices.

Name Winners In Photo Contest

All 77 entries in the School of Journalism photography contest will be on exhibit in the journalism building today, according to Harlan Bower, director of the exhibit.

Jim Emrick, journalism senior from Conrad, won first prize in the college student division of the contest. Top honors of the exhibit went to Arthur Washington, Missoula, whose picture of a dew-covered rose was judged best in the show.

Other first prize winners were Al Ham, Missoula, in the Adult Amateur division; and Skulason Moe in the High School Student division.

The School of Journalism hopes to make the exhibit an annual affair to give photographers in this area an opportunity to display their work to the public, according to Dean James L. C. Ford.

Phi Chi Theta actives will meet tonight at 7:30 in Craig 212. Pledges will meet at the same time in Craig 211. A film has been secured to show after the meetings.

A Long Way From the Briny Deep

The bell of the U.S.S. Montana rests now at the Sigma Chi house, far from the salt air it once knew.

U.S.S. MONTANA'S BELL AGROUND AT MISSOULA

It's a long distance from gales in the Atlantic ocean, fighting service in World War I, and eventual junking by the Navy department, that a ship's bell traveled. Want to hear the story?

Montanans were proud in 1908 when the battleship USS Montana was christened, and launched with all the naval pomp that characterizes the bluejacket ceremony. Today, all that remains of the USS Montana are dusty records filed in naval vaults, and the ship's bell, and head boards of the captain's cabin.

The yarn of how the bell and head boards came to Missoula, and their eventual resting place on the Sigma Chi fraternity premises is often told by Dr. Frederick Scheuch, president-emeritus (retired with honor) of MSU, and the only living faculty member of the original five men who began teaching at the University in an abandoned grade school in 1895.

Small Dinner Bell

During the twenties, when disarmament was the panacea preached by international statesmen, plans were made to dismantle the Montana and sell the remains for scrap. "Prof" Scheuch wrote his friend Gen. Patrick Hurley, then secretary of war in the Harding cabinet, that "perhaps you might find it possible to send us a small dinner bell from the USS Montana as a souvenir."

General Hurley corresponded with the secretary of the navy, and replied to Scheuch that a bell and the head boards could be sent if freight charges would be paid.

"Of course," chuckled Scheuch, "I might have created a fictional 'historical society' story for Hurley, but I felt that somewhere in Montana we should have some remembrance of the battleship."

"Prof" Scheuch was amazed several weeks later when a drayman called him and said that he had a ton and a half package, and a bill for several hundred dollars.

The "small dinner bell" turned out to be the bronze ship's bell, with the name USS Montana and the date 1908 inscribed on it. Only a small part of the drayman's bill was for freight charges. The remainder was a bill for damages caused when the bell crashed through a freight loading floor in Spokane, and destroyed some merchandise.

The bell now rests in the center of a flower garden in the back yard of the Sigma Chi house. The head boards are placed at each side of the fraternity's porch.

Although landlocked in Missoula, the bell occasionally booms out after a Grizzly victory, or during parades, reminding listeners of the mighty Montana.

CLOSE LOGIC

Dear Editor:

It was with gratification that we read the reply to Carroll O'Connor's column of Wednesday, April 27. It proves that at least some persons are interested in national defense. We are sure that the two authors of the reply will be happy to know that they are not lone voices crying in the wilderness.

A careful perusal of the year's national budget has uncovered a fifteen billion dollar item for national defense. This is certainly a starter anyway.

But, although money is the nerve of war, men are necessary too, and of course leaders for those men. Certainly if war should come the trained leaders we shall have will be well worth the small inconvenience that Mr. O'Connor may have suffered. As everyone knows, there is a direct correlation between education and leadership ability. The Army, realizing this, has instituted the ROTC.

That ROTC cadets are clever fellows can be clearly seen by their brilliant demonstration of logistics which completely invalidated O'Connor's article.

Ramsey D. Ackerman
Jim McRandle
Dan Griffin

P.S. It is a well-known fact that in the recent war ROTC officers were unique. Very unique.

Clyde "Cac" Hubbard, university athletic director, will speak on "Athletics and Citizenship" before a Butte Rotary club luncheon tomorrow.

Big Smoker

All men journalism majors are invited to attend a Sigma Delta Chi smoker in the Silver room of the Student Union at 8 o'clock tonight, according to Elwyn Peffer, president of the journalism professional fraternity.

Eugene MacKinnon, general manager of the Salt Lake Tribune and Telegram, will attend the smoker. He began a series of professional lectures in the journalism school Monday. The smoker will give journalism students a chance to meet MacKinnon and discuss the newspaper field, Peffer said.

SDX will provide cigarettes and refreshments at the smoker.

Softball League in Full Swing; Jumbo Takes PDT in Overtime

In the five games that were played at the end of last week, Jumbo hall took Phi Delta Theta, 7-4, Thursday, Sigma Chi won from Phi Sigma Kappa, 10-7, South hall gave the Row house team a 7-0 beating, Ski club won an 18-10 victory over Corbin hall on Friday, and Sigma Nu lost to the Forestry club, 11-6 in Saturday's game.

Thursday's game between the Phi Delt and Jumbo hall may go down in the records as the game of the year. Jumbo picked up four of its runs early in the game when Pfeiffer, Loshe, Richardson, and Leaf rounded the sacks in a second-inning rally.

Phi Delt Downed

The Phi Delt squad picked up its first run in the fourth, Moses tripled and came in on an error. Then in the sixth Edwards homered, Markle and Moses scored on a single of Pitcher Morrison's, and the game was all tied up, 4-all.

The game went into extra innings, each side unable to score. Then came the eleventh. Jumbo's Taylor singled to right field, rounded second on an error, and dug for third. The throw to catch him at third was bad and bounded into the crowd. Before it could be recovered Taylor was across the plate with the tie-breaking run. Following batters sent two more runs across before the Phi Delt could put out the fire.

The game will be protested, according to Phi Delt Manager Tom Edwards, on the grounds that Umpire Lerch held a Phi Delt runner to third when a throw to that base went into the crowd, and later, a Jumbo runner scored under the same condition.

Another close game was played in the Clover bowl Friday afternoon, the Sigma Chi's meeting the Phi Sigma Kappa squad. Sigma Chi took the lead in the second inning, tallying three runs. Then the Phi Sig boys tied it up by sending three across in the third. Sigma Chi picked up four in the fourth and three in the fifth to which Phi Sig was only able to reply with two in the sixth, final score reading 10-7.

Ski Club Strong

The Ski club ran up an 18-10 win over Corbin hall in one of the late games played Friday. In three big innings, 2, 4, and 5, the Ski boys chalked up 15 of their run. Corbin retaliated by sending eight men over the plate but the Corbin squad could not stand up to the hitting power of the Ski club.

In another of Friday's late games South hall's improved hitting and near-perfect fielding, combined with Doc O'Quinn's effective three-hit pitching, gave the boys from the hall a 7-0 win over the Row House team. O'Quinn struck out eight men in the seven inning game.

Lots of Homers

South's Thornfeldt received the honors in the batting department, knocking a home run with two mates aboard in the fifth inning.

The Forestry club made a comeback in Saturday's game when it defeated the Sigma Nu squad, 11-6. The winners picked up five of their runs in the first inning, one in the fourth, and five in the sixth. Sigma Nu's pitcher Hall walked seven and gave up 11 hits in the game. Wesen, Forestry, gave up 11 hits and walked five.

O'Quinn Fans Eleven

South hall beat the Forestry squad 8-1 in a game played Monday night on the practice field. O'Quinn, South's pitcher, turned in another excellent job of pitching, holding the opposing team to three hits, striking out 11.

The eight South hall runs came as a result of fourteen hits, while the lone Forester run was unearned. This makes the third unearned run plus only one earned run scored against South hall in the last four games.

Elden Nedds sparked the South hall team by slugging a homer in the fourth inning. Although the Foresters showed fine form, with pitcher Wesen turning in a good game, they were not able to handle the speed of Doc O'Quinn.

In another game played Monday, Sig Ep took the Theta Chis 12-11, in five innings. The game was called at the end of the fifth because of darkness.

Stelling was the winning pitcher, coming in in the fourth inning to relieve Bob Bedard. The teams were evenly matched, pitching being of about equal caliber.

54 Schools To Enter Track Meet

"I believe this 43rd Interscholastic meet will be the most successful ever held," said Dr. J. W. Howard, general chairman of the meet. This is Dr. Howard's ninth year as general chairman. Dates for the meet are May 12, 13, and 14.

Schools Register

Up to Tuesday noon, 54 Montana high schools had registered for the traditional spring meet. Last night was the filing deadline, and the chairman was confident that all previous attendance records would be broken.

High school students will be competing in nine divisions this year. In addition to the Interscholastic track meet, golf and tennis matches will round out the athletic events.

High school journalism groups will again edit the Kaimin, and attend meetings of the Interscholastic Editorial association. Last year 77 schools entered newspapers in the rating contest. Robert P. Struckman, adviser of the group, announces that Kathleen Seaton and Joyce Siperly of the Great Falls Inniwa staff will be co-editors of the all-state Kaimin issue.

Speech events include declamation, extemporaneous speaking, and original oratory. High school debaters will argue the question of whether the United Nations should be revised into a federal world government. The annual banquet of the Montana Speech league is scheduled for Thursday evening, May 12.

Thespians Compete

Montana high school Thespians will participate in the Interscholastic Little Theatre festival and tournament on Saturday, May 14. LeRoy Hinze, MSU drama director, has received registration entries from 25 high schools. The festival is non-competitive, and the plays are presented for ratings only, said Hinze. The two best productions in the tournament will be given Saturday evening in the Student Union theater.

Billings high school will present a cutting from "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and Hamilton high will produce another cutting from the well-known "Glass Menagerie." All theater events will be presented on Saturday.

Season tickets for the meet went on sale yesterday at the Student Union business office. Tickets sell for $1.50 to MSU students and cover admission to all events.

College Row Decorates

All Interscholastic meet traditions are going forward as planned, Dr. Howard said. Fraternity and sorority houses will have track meet decorations appealing to high school students on educational opportunities offered at MSU.

The Montana Masquers will present "Alice in Wonderland" for all contestants on Thursday evening following the traditional SOS at Main hall.

Spartans Romp Over Cubs; Outrun, Outjump U Hopefuls

In a meet held in connection with the MSU-EWC tussle, the Missoula high Spartans nosed out the University Cubs 59-58, Saturday on Dornblaser field. Joe Luckman of the Cubs was sensational in taking the sprinting events and the broad jump. Bob Ripke picked up 10 points for the yearling cause with wins in the shot put and discus throw, while John Badgely gained a first in the high hurdles and second place in the low hurdles.

Lacked Strength

The Cubs lacked strength in the quarter, half and mile runs and the Spartans picked up points in these events. The prep scholars looked good in competition and the experience gained will show up in the Interscholastic meet to be held here next week.

Luckman's broad jump of 23 feet 8½ inches was farther than any Grizzly jumper has ever leaped by six inches. The record, held by Jim Seyler, is 23 feet 2½ inches.

The future Grizzlies looked promising in their first competition of the season. Ripke's shot put mark was 18 inches further than Crosby's winning heave and his throw in the discus event was better than Doyle's previous best mark in this event.

Looked Promising

Luckman leaped 16 inches further than Rocheleau, who placed first in varsity competition in the broad jump, and his time in the century was only .4 more than Brewer's winning time, while he was one second behind Brewer's mark in the 220-yard dash.

No relay race was held. Results of the meet were:

Pole vault: Cossner, Cubs, 11'6"; Nooney, Cubs, 11'; Sannes, MHS, 10'6". Shot Put: Ripke, Cubs, 47'8½"; Beach, MHS, 46'1¾"; Zottnick, MHS, 45'10¼". Javelin: Johnson, MHS, 157'8¾"; Barclay, MHS, 156'10"; Zottnick, MHS, 155'9¼". High Jump: Tie, Mason, Cubs, and Barclay, MHS, 5'7¼"; Hasquet, Cubs, 5'5¼". Mile run: Hove, MHS; Burhan, MHS; Blair, MHS, Time, 4:49.9. 440-yard run: Reynolds, MHS; Hrutt, MHS; Wakefield, Cubs, Time, 53.6. Broad Jump: Luckman, Cubs, 23'8½"; Badgely, Cubs, 21'5¾"; Powell, 20'10". 100-yard dash: Luckman, Cubs; Bayers, Cubs; Saylor, MHS, Time, 10.7. High hurdles: Badgely, Cubs; Buckavatz, MHS; Mohland, MHS, Time, 16.7. Discus: Ripke, Cubs, 153'11¼"; Smart, Cubs, 141'5¾"; Barclay, MHS, 135'. 220-yard dash: Luckman, Cubs; Damas-kos, MHS; Bayers, Cubs, Time, 23.2.

If you haven't bought your track meet tickets, now is the time: $1.50. A real investment in entertainment.

and have been adequately publicized, that all the parents will wake up and say, "It could have been my child." Then, and only then, will reform begin at home.

If parents have so far been unable to instruct in matters of sex, and we all know they have often failed, how can we expect them to enforce drinking edicts, especially if the law officers do not enforce the laws against drinking? A high school youth or college freshman may rightly suppose that any crime winked at by the law is no crime at all.

If the law officers are honestly stymied in their search for absolute proof of law violation, we will gladly provide that proof. We will make it very easy for them to use the material we give, for we will publish it on the day it is given.

In the meanwhile, the Citizen's committee had better decide either to enforce the existing laws, or strike them from the books. Young men and women are brave talkers, but fear the law like perdition. If a few token arrests are made you can be sure that underage drinking will be reduced. If the committee can't see the wisdom of this, it would be logical to do away with all restrictions against drinking, and make Missoula a second Butte.

Grizzlies Win One, Lose One With Gonzaga Drop EWC Savages 8 to 7

The Grizzly baseball nine boosted its win average to .600 by winning two out of three games over the week end to make a total of six wins to four losses for the season. They split a doubleheader with Gonzaga Friday and rallied to edge out EWC, 8 to 7, Saturday morning. In the three games Nicol got five hits from nine times at bat to bolster his season average to .455.

The Grizzlies outscored Gonzaga, 6 to 2, in the afternoon game. They took a 2-to-0 lead in the third and scored four more runs in the seventh to check a Gonzaga seventh-inning two-run rally. Bob Holding, Grizzly moundsman, walked only one man in seven innings. Cope made the only Grizzly error in the game. John Holding stole two bases and Nicol and Walsh each stole one.

In the Friday nightcap, Gonzaga outscored the Grizzlies, 3 to 2. Lucas gave up five hits and three walks for three runs in seven innings and the Grizzlies scored two runs on five hits and three walks.

In the Saturday game with EWC Cope relieved Tabaracci in the fifth with the Savages leading, 7 to 4, and pitched shut-out ball for the remaining three innings. The Grizzlies rallied with two runs in both the sixth and seventh to win, 8 to 7. Cope helped win his own ball game, with a homer in the first frame and Tabaracci knocked out a double both times he was at bat. Jourdonnais came through with one stolen base.

Professor Publishes Pageant-drama Piece

Bert Hanson, professor of English, published an article in the April issue of the National University Extension Association Bulletin about the community service programs conducted by the university Public Service division.

Mr. Hanson described the regional pageant-dramas and the extemporaneous community socio-dramas offered by the University as a means of creating "within our own country a feeling of group togetherness—not only within the communities themselves but between communities."
